Dedication

This book is dedicated to the memory of my Aunt Obena Mae Erwin Hale. The countless number of hours that were spent in the beloved home of Uncle Lennis and Aunt Obena will forever be etched in my memory. The nights that my cousin Barbara and I spent together still bring a smile to my face, oh my the mischief we shared, and the fun we had. The trips we took to visit our Aunt Lockie in Apison, Tennessee, and the times we had together with our Uncle Otto Erwin will always be cherished and remembered. Even in the twilight years of my father's life we always had a welcome haven in the home of my aunt. The memory of the love she had for my father and for me will always warm my heart.

Acknowledgements

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the family members that have given me information on their specific families. I would also like to say a special thank you to my cousin Elizabeth Jean Erwin Gregory for getting me interested in genealogy. Thirty five years ago she gave me information on the family that she and my uncle Adolphus Erwin compiled during his life. With this information I was able to get a running start on much of my digging and research. I would like to thank a distant cousin Donald Dean Erwin, of California, for the information he was able to provide and to a distant cousin Mary Zandra Erwin Baker for the information she provided also. Some of this information she published and put on file in the Wrather Library at Murray State University. The information provided by these and many others, to numerous to mention, laid the foundation for me to research and verify much of the information in this book. I would also like to give a very special thank you and say "I love you" to my husband of fifty years, Leo Smith. Without his help I would never have been able to put this book together. We cleaned many old tombstones, dug though old Court houses and record books, and traveled all over the United States for the purpose of digging and searching for information. I would never have been able to gather as much information and statistics as I have on our family without him.

Introduction

A family tree starts with it's roots, moves up to the trunk then out to the branches. On the branches are many leaves. What I am trying to capture in not only the leaves on the tree today, but also the leaves that have changed color and fallen from the tree. I am trying to get to the "Roots" of our wonderful family as well as searching for the buts of the leaves to come. It is these future leaves that will keep this family tree surviving and growing.

A family tree can be looked upon much like a seed from a plant. It can appear thousands of miles from the original plant and still come up the same as the original plant. It can be damaged by strong winds, or even grow in size by the rich nourishment of a new home, but it will still bare the unmistakable marks of its ancestors. The same courage and strengths of both body and mind that our ancestors of the old country expressed on the battlefields as well as in the homes will be repeated by their descendants. The same talents, qualities and abilities that mad up the character of our ancestors will again rear their heads with the generations to come.

Like everything there is a beginning and an end. Using the results of my research to date, I would like to take your from the beginning, as far back as I have been able to verify, and into the future generations.

Hopefully this is only the start of recording this families history. Genealogy research is an on going process that requires continuous searching as well as the help an input from all family members. It is also a combination of verifiable fact, a little fiction, and a lot of hearsay. Hopefully non of the information in this record is fiction. Records were not kept as thorough prior to the nineteenth century as they are today. Therefore much of the information is from historical reports, religious records, cemeteries and family members. Much of the information prior to 1200 was taken from the encyclopedia. I*f I have not listed a source in the notes it has probably been taken the encyclopedia or was received from other family members.

The notes in this research have been transcribed as they appear in the various records. This includes spelling, punctuation and abbreviations. These are very different from the spellings and grammer of todays standard.

My husband and I have traveled several thousand miles, visited untold number of libraries, court houses halls of records and state archives. We have spent numerous hours, days and weeks reading old micro film records anywhere they were available. We have searched hundreds if not thousands of churches and cemeteries. We have discovered and literally uncovered several old abandoned grave yards and family burial areas. We have cleaned and taken digital pictures of hundreds of grave markers. We have dug through and read many old church records, some were from churches that were active in the early seventeen hundreds and some of these are still active today and holding regular services. Many of these still have some of our family members still in positions of authority.

In many of the old records we have found stories that are of the same incident yet reported with different views. Thus proving the fact that each person recording an incident whether it be someone in the 1600's or in present times have a tendency to record or write what they remember. I am not saying what has been written in history records is wrong, I am only stating that it is probably just a small portion of what really happened, or just one side of the incident.

At this point I would like to say, "I am not a professional writer". You will find punctuation errors, spelling errors and even typographical errors in this publication. You will even find incorrect sentence structure. Leo and I have traveled thousands of miles and spent untold number of hours literally digging up and trying to authenticate the information in this publication. I am sure there are some errors, however they are not intentional. This research and writing was done with a lot of inspiration, a lot of perspiration (it's amazing how hot it can get when you are in cemeteries cleaning off the old markers so you can read and record information), a few tears but also with a lot of dedication and heart.

We have tried to put ourselves back in time to visualize some of the trials and tribulations that occurred during each period. I have tried to have this information as accurate as possible. Hopefully it will give our future generations a little peek into the past and let them know their ancestors a little better.

Please let me know of any corrections of personal data, and additional new information. If you find errors please feel free to call them to my attention. You may have documentation that I have not been able to uncover.

To keep this family history updated I need to be informed of marriages, births, deaths, and divorces. If your have anything that you would like to have preserved for future generations, please drop me a note and I will enter it in that person family record.

I hope you enjoy traveling back in time for a brief visit with our ancestors as much as Leo and I have. God Bless you and stay in touch. As was in the days of our grandparents, family will always be welcome guests in our home. If your are ever traveling our way please stop by. We can always put another bean in the pot or tater in the pan.

Now, grab your reading glasses, sit back, get comfortable, put your mind and body in imagination mode as we travel together back into the lives of our ancestors. Try to visualize and feel what the families of years past experienced in their daily lives. Travel with them on their many journeys to new lands and new places and homes.

A GLANCE AT THE PAST

DRUM CASTLE

300 AD to 1306

Sometime before 373 AD, the Clans of the Gaelic Nations came from the west coast of Spain and established themselves on the east coast of Ireland. From there they moved on to the west coast of Scotland, and the Scots called them "Erinviene's". Erin meaning from the west, and Viene meaning a brave, resolute, worthy man. During this time the Erinviene's had close relations with the Kings of Scotland.

During the time the Erinviene's stayed on the west coast of Scotland they built Irving castle, which later became the Town of Irving, and named the Irving River after their clan. Today both the town and the river are called Irvine.

In 373 AD the Erinviene's, together with other Scottish clans, fought against the Romans. King Eugenius died, and the Erviene's and the rest of the Albion Scots fled to Scandinavia. For many years the Scots tried to retake their land. In 404 AD Fergus was made King. Fergus II led the return to Scotland and, along with the Erinviene's and other Clans, they drove the Romans out of Scotland.

Three Erivine brothers - Erinus, Grim and Duncan - were grandsons of Duncan, the first of the Eryvine's, who was killed at Duncurb in 965 AD. The eldest brother, Erinus, who ranked second to the king, inherited his family's titles as Seneschal of Kint's Rents, and Athbane of Dule and Abbott of Dunkeld. He married the eldest Daughter of King Malcolm II.

Duncan was the ancestor of the entire Irvine clan. Sometime before 1034 Duncan was named Prince of Cumberland by his Grandfather, Malcolm II, King of Scotland. Prince Duncan took several of the old Clans to the South border to defend Scotland from England, and Prince Duncan's uncle brought his clan, the Erivine's with him. They built the Towers of Bashaw along the banks of the Kirtle and many manor houses in what became the ancient home of the Irvine clan.

Malcolm II had no male heir when he was assassinated in 1034. The throne was occupied by the grandson of Malcolm and Son of Erinus, Duncan Erivine I. During his reign, Duncan was defeated in his campaign against the Norsemen and led the remnants of his army home in 1040. While returning he was attacked and killed by his first cousin, Mac Beth the Usurper, who assumed the throne and ruled for 17 years. It is around Duncan's murder that Shakespeare's play Mac Beth is based. Erinus was killed by Mac Beth forces in 1045 while seeking revenge for the murder of his son.

The sons of Duncan I remained in hiding until 1057 when Malcolm Erivine raised an army to challenge Mac Beth. With the help of Lord Mac Duff, Thane of Fife, he defeated Mac Beth's stepson. Lulach, and he regained his father's throne and became Malcolm III. This succession included David I (The Saint) who created the lion rampant as his battle crest and coat of arms. The line ended with Alexander III hen he rode his horse over a cliff on a dark December night in 1286.

Alexander III was predeceased by his heirs and with his death the succession was cast into dispute. Thirteen claimants stepped forward to declare their right to the throne, all having some relation to the line of Irvine. John Balliol, the primary claimant, was great great great grandson of David I. Edward "Longshanks" of England chose Balliol to be King of Scotland, who had to promise subservience to London. When Balliol could no longer tolerate following the direction of the English he was deposed and imprisoned in London. Now only Balliol's nephew, John 'Red' Comyn, stood between Robert the Bruce and the throne. These two agreed to meet at the Church of the Grey Friers in 1306 to resolve their dispute. That discussion ended when, in the heat of argument, Robert put a dagger through Comyn's heart.

During his famous campaign against the English, Robert the Bruce often sought help and refuge from his kinsmen, the Irvines of Bonshaw. He whose William de Irwyn as one of his principle aides and companions. As the story goes, at one point King Robert found himself put to a flight by his enemies with only a few of his aides around him. Exhausted by the chase, the King was compelled to sleep under a holly tree while William stood guard over him. Holly leaves are now a prominent feature in all seven family crests which represents the major branches of the Irvine clan. William stood by King Robert again at the famous battle of Bannockburn in June of 1314 (one of the few battles where the Scots defeated the English) and for his service was awarded the Royal Forest of Oaks in Aberdeenshire and Drum Castle, which guards it, in 1323. Sir William de Irvine married a grand Daughter of Bruce, who was the Daughter of Robert Douglas, Earl of Buchan. From this union was derived the two great families of Bonshaw and Drum. For twelve generations, starting with the third Laird of Drum, there was a successive line of Irvines all bearing the name Alexander.

Sir Alexander Irvine, Third Laird of Drum, who was the grandson of William de Irvine, was one of the chief commanders of the Kint's army at the battle of Harlaw, 1411 AD. He was a valiant champion. Alexander lead the forces of Aberdeenshire with his cousin the Earl of Mar to meet the invaders from the Hebrides. Before the battle Alexander made his brother swear that should Alexander be killed, Robert would assume his baronial right at Drum. During the battle Alexander encountered the ferocious Chief of the Mac Leans of Duart in Mull, known as Red Hector of the Battles. After 'noble and notable single combat' the two of them lay dead upon the field, killed by mortal blows struck upon each other. Many Irvines died in the battle of the Harlaw. Younger brother Robert carried out his oath and changed his name to Alexander and married his elders brother's fiancee, Elizabeth de Keith. Sometime later he led the delegation which negotiated the release of Jmes I from the hands of the English, for which he was knighted. James V rewarded the sixth Laird of Drum in 1547 AD for his peace making efforts. Many Irvines also died at the battle of Flodden in September 9 1513.

Drum Castle was plundered three times during the Covenanting Rebellion throughout which the royalist Irvine's supported Charles I. Alexander, a Royalist, was forced to conform to the Covenant and was appointed Sheriff of Aberdeen in 1634. Alexander, Tenth Laird of Drum, his brother Robert Federett and his two sons were imprisoned at the Tolbooth in Edinburgh several times. His son Robert died there in 1646. When Charles became King in 1660, he offered Sir Alexander's Son Alexander the tenth Laird of Drum, an earldom as reward for his support, which was refused. The 14th Laird took part in the Jacobite rising of 1715 and Alexander, the 17th Laird joined Prince Charles at Cullonden in 1745. He escaped imprisonment and forfeiture despite being captured twice with reason.

The offer of royal peerage was made to the eleventh Laird, but was turned down because the King wouldn't pay to repair dame sustained to Drum Castle while the family had supported the King. After the fourteenth Laird (a Jacobite) was killed at the Battle of Sheriffmuir in 1715, the estate passed to John Irvine of Crimond. After this, the Irvines continued to fight for the Jacobite cause, and because of this, the Laird spent 7 years in exile in France after the defeat of Prince Charles at Cullonden.

Variations of the Irvine Name

The present name of Irvine is believed to have originated in Dumfiresshire between 1124 and 1165. Irvin, Irvine, Irwin and Erwin are identical names belonging to the same family. The wide range of variations is attributed to medieval census takers who relied on spoken pronunciations of the name.

In the past 1500 years the original family name, Erinviene, has been altered into many different versions: Curwing, De Irwin, D'Irevigne, D'Orvin, Eirryn, Erevine, Erewynis, Erin, Ervin, Ervine, Erving, Ervinge, Erwin, Erwine, Erwing, Erwyn, Eryvine, Eryvineus, Eurwing, Hierweine, Hirevigne, Hirevigne, Hurven, Irvigne, Irrwing, Irrwingis, Iruin, Irwein, Irwen, Irwenis, Irwin, Irwine, Irwing, Irwinge, Irwyn, Irwyne, Irwynn, Irwynnis, Irnagio, Orruein, Ouron, Urin, Urwen, Urwen, Urwin, Urwine, Vrwin, Yrwens, Yrwin, Yrwins.

THE ERWIN DESCENDANTS OF TODAY LOOKING BACK INTO THE LIVES OF THE ERWINS OF THE PAST AND LOOKING FORWARD TO THE ERWIN DESCENDANTS OF THE TOMORROWS TO COME

As our generation looks around us what we see today as to our place in the family is very different from what we saw only a few short years ago. I am not the senior of our generation (the 20th great grand children of Alexander De Irwyn) nor am I the junior. I guess you would say I fit right in the midst of the group that will very very soon be the senior generation. As we look back what many of us remember is our own grandparents, but for most that second memory is scant. A lot of these memories are of the stories we heard from our parents and our grandparents. Most of our parents generation have gone on now and for those of you that still have your parents, Cling to each day as if it were going to be the last. The time you live today will be the memories of the future.

I guess now what we are called is the "older generation". I know as I have grown "younger" my interest in my family roots seem to have gotten stronger. I guess what I have thought about is what do my children and my grandchildren know about their heritage? Really, in most cases not a lot. Now is the perfect time for our middle generation (the 21st great grandchildren of Alexander De Irwyn) to start keeping records of what they hear us (the older generation) reminisce about, our lives, our stories, our memories, the changes we have seen and so forth.

Be proud of your name, and heritage. It is like anything the better and stronger the foundation the stronger and sturdier the building. Before we move into general information about each member of our family, I'm sure each of you have wondered what's in a name? Why so many different spellings, how the spellings got changed from DeIrwyn to Erwin. To help understand the spelling variances we need to start our trip by taking a walk back in time.

Learning skills, education and technology have come a long way in the past 150 years. One hundred and fifty years ago very few people had much more than a self taught education. The only method of keeping records were deeds, land transfers, and oh yes let's not forget the census. The census of the late 1800's even the early 1900's was much different from what we know it today. I can remember when someone came to our door, and who ever answered the door got the questions -- who lives here, what do they do, what are their names, (spell that) or even they guessed at how they thought it should be spelled. Now think about it that was in the mid 1900's, look back again to the mid 1800's when a lot of our family members had only a minimum amount of learning skills. Also let's listen to the various brogue that exists today. The people out West pronounce letters with different sounds than the people in the extreme North East, and lets not forget our southern family members. Now we can really put a long drawl on many of those letters. If we did not have the education and learning skills of today many of us would spell things very different from each other.

You will see our name spelled many different ways, but I promise you somewhere at some time or another all spellings intertwined. Some of the most popular ways of spelling our name today are Irwyn, Irvine, Irwin, Erwyn Erving or Irving and Erwin.

The name it's self derives from the Celtic "Erin Fein" meaning a stead fast man from the West. At one time almost everything was written in Latin. While the scribes were reporting on all the misdeeds of the Irwyns, Irvines Erwins, remember the spelling varies, I am sure how each scribe spelled it can account for many of the changes. Later when the Kings English established the alphabet as we know it today, it included the letter "w" as well as many others that were not previously been used. The different spellings can be accounted for later simply by a person making the decision that a w sounds softer than a v or that they just wanted to be different from their parents. Oh how familiar that sounds, some things don't change even in 740 years. It appears as if eve then each generation wanted to make their own mark and not do things like the generation before them.

On the next pages you will have the opportunity to glance back into the lives of our Erwin ancestors and many of their wives families. You will find information on our roots from across the pond and follow them as they traveled into the Colonies and on to new lands. This journey will take you into countless generations of our family. It will give you some insight into many of the spellings of the different names and the various lifestyles. You will find that many times what we refer to as our surname did not exist, and often seemed to change with the same individual. This can be explained by the fact that people were known by what land they possessed, or area of the country they were from. You will find that many of our ancestors became Lords and King by their own proclamation. I am not saying this is true of all as yes we do have Royal blood lines in our heritage. However many times they gave themselves titles to enhance their status of how much land they had conquered.

I hope you enjoy this and have a few minutes of fond reminiscing even a few laughs. These may come from the way things are worded and spelled in records that I have found. I did my best to transcribe all records exactly as they were recorded. Try to put yourself in the place of each generation. Close your eyes occasionally and try to visualize what life was like during each period of time.

Now it is the time to go back in time, and walk with our ancestors on their long journey that eventually led them to Calloway County, Kentucky. Then on to each of our personal locations and our lives as we live them today with our children and grandchildren.

Washington Allison was my g grandfather and from family records and also from information provided by his Daughter in law he was born in 1836 not 1832 as the census would so indicate.

In the book " A History of South Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church 1834-1979" page 17 states: W.A. Erwin was one of the early members of Pleasant Grove he died in 1928 at the age of 89. Mr. Erwin kept a list of all of the pastors of the church from 1850 to 1923.

Notes for JOHN JOHNSTON ERWIN:

The birth records for John Johnston are from the family Bible records. The Bible is in the possession of Myrtle Lurine Erwin Cooper Mrs. R. L. Cooper) of Murray, Calloway County, Kentucky. The names of the children of John Johnston and Sarah Maria are also spelled according to the the Bible records. The same holds true for the birth and other pertinent dates.

The record of the marriage of John Johnston Erwin and Sarah M. Allison was taken from the book "Marriages in North Carolina to 1825". It lists the place of the marriage as being Mecklenberg County North Carolina. Mecklenberg was the next county south of Rowan County.

John Johnston Erwin settled in Augusta, Georgia. He later moved to Paris, Henry County, Tennessee, and in 1840 moved to Crossland near Hazel, Kentucky. John Johnston worked with his uncle prior to moving to Crossland, Kentucky.

1850 Census Calloway County, Kentucky, reel M432-194 page 478, Dwelling number 49; J. J. Erwin, male age 49, occupation farmer, born in North Carolina. S. M. Erwin, female age 43, born in North Carolina. H. A. Erwin, female age 22, born in Georgia. W. A. Erwin, male age 16 born in Tennessee.
(Cemetery records and family records show W.A. as being born in 1836, which would put him at 14 not 16.). T. B. Erwin, male age 6 born in Kentucky. J. G. Erwin, male age 4 born in Kentucky. (This has to be an error on the part of the census it must mean J. J. or John Johnson, as he would have been 4 at the time of this census.) W. J. Erwin, male age 2 born in Kentucky.

1860 Census Calloway County, Kentucky, Swan Precinct, dated August 2, 1860, Reel # M653-359 Page 290, Dwelling 816, family 816; Lists John J. Erwin male, age 60 (the abbreviation of Jno J. and Erwin was spelled Ervin, this spelling was consistent for the rest of the family throughout the entire census report on John Johnston for that year. The age of 60 would reflect his being born 1800 as he would not be 59 until September of 1860). His occupation was listed as farmer and his property value as $2,700, and his personal worth as being $1,200. It shows him as being born in North Carolina. Sara Ervin female, age 53 occupation housewife, born in North Carolina. W. A. Ervin male, age 20, (this age would seem to reflect that Washington Allison's birth year was 1840, which in fact was 4 years after his actual birth in 1836). Occupation for W.A. is listed as farmer, and that he was born in Tennessee. Thos. B. Ervin male, age 18, (in fact he was 17 years old), born in Kentucky. Jno. J. Ervin Jun. male age 14, born in Kentucky.

1870 Census Calloway County, Kentucky Swan Precinct, dwelling 221 family 210, dated September 9, 1870, Reel M593-452, page 105A; Lists John J. Erwin white male, age 69, occupation farmer property value $1,200.and his personal worth $200., listing his as being born in North Carolina. Sarah Erwin white female, age 64, occupation keeping house, born in North Carolina. Washington A. Erwin white male, age 30 occupation farmer property value $500. personal worth $125., born in Tennessee. Thomas B. white male, age 27, occupation farmer, property value $300. personal worth $150., born in Kentucky. Mary L. Erwin white female, age 20 living at home, born in Kentucky. This would appear as if Thomas B. and his wife Mary Louisa was living in the home of his parents the first year of their marriage. John J. Erwin white male, age 24, occupation farmer, property value 0 personal worth $150. born in Kentucky. William J. Erwin white male, age 22, occupation farm laborer, born in Kentucky.

Notes for Joseph Lafayette Erwin:
Joseph Lafayette Erwin served in the War with Mexico. He enlisted at Paris, Henry County, Tennessee on April 12, 1847 as a Private in "G" Company, 114th U. S. Infantry Regiment. On January 1, 1848 he was transferred to "E" Company, same regiment. He was honorably discharged in New Orleans on July 25, 1848. After the war he planned to go to California and join the "Gold Rush". Before this journey he went to Crossland, Kentucky to visit his uncle, John Johnston Erwin. John was his father's younger brother. It was then that he met his cousin Mariah Anastasia Erwin, John Johnson Erwin's Daughter. They fell in love and soon married, thus ending his search for gold. It has been told that Mariah was engaged to Archibold McPhearson at the time she met and fell in love with Joseph Lafayette. Arch, as he was called, was said to have taken it with good graces and said he would wait and marry Joseph Lafayette and Mariahs fist born daughter. As you will see from family record this is exactly what he did. There is a twenty year difference between him and Mariah's first born daughter Augusta Ann.
His company commander was Captain James Scantling and his regimental commander was Col. Trousdale. He served at least sixty days in combat in Mexico, and was on the battle line as his regiment advanced from Vera Cruz to Mexico City. He was also involved in the Battles of Ceritreras, Cherabusco, Morino Del Ore and Chapultopec. Reference: Application for Mexican War pension. Joseph Lafayette, in a disposition for military pension stated that he and Mariah Anistasia Erwin were married April 9, 1849, marriage records on file in the Calloway County Court House reflects their marriage date as April 12, 1849. They were married at the home of John Johnston Erwin, Mariah's father in Crossland, Calloway County, Kentucky.

The following information was taken from documents on file in the National Archives in Washington DC: Pension requests (two) in his own handwriting list his wife's name as Mariah Anastasia Erwin. Another document lists all of the names of his children and thir birthdays

Notes for JAMES COLEMAN BAZZELL:

Marriage record on file at the Davidson County Courthouse for James Coleman Bazzell and Narcissa Weakley Hughes. Marriage Records, Volume 1 page 505 James bought land in Calloway County from the Commonwealth of Kentucky on January 17, 1834. He sold this land on August 15, 1935. The sale was witnessed by: Richard Bizwell (Bazzell) and Kindul Bazzell (Could this have been a Kendall Bazzell). James continued to live in Maury County, Tennessee until 1852. At that time he returned to Calloway County and lived the rest of his life there until his death, January 5, 1877. Robert S. and David T. Bazzell were executors of his will.

James is listed in the 1860 Calloway County Census with out a wife. The census shows the following: --- Bazzell, J. C. age 53, farmer, born in Virginia. - Lumisa (could this be Louisa) age 20 born in Tennessee. - Amanda, age 17, born in Tennessee, (this is probably Maranda), age 17 born in Tennessee. - Robert, age 16, born in Tennessee. - William J., age14, born in Tennessee. - Sarah A., age 11, born in Tennessee. - Eliza P. (this is probably Elizabeth Permelia), age 8, born in Tennessee. - Mary F., age 7, born in Kentucky.----The age's are reflected very close on all of the children except Amanda and Lumisa. Lumisa (Louisa) would have been 21 or 22 and Amanda (Maranda) would have been 19 or 20 depending on what month the census was taken.

The following is information provided by Ann Bazzell Decker December 2002. According to her James Coleman is not Son of Richard L Bazzell. On Family Tree CD 47-114 it shows James Coleman's father as John. She does not elaborate on John. I am not in agreement with this information. I believe that Richard is James Coleman's father and that the reason that James was not mentioned or given 80 acres of land in Richards will was because he had already received his share. It you notice in the will the land given to Nancy bordered the land owned by James. Very possibly when James returned to Calloway county after 1852, Richard then gave him his share of the property. This is Nancy theory and not been documented.

Notes for CATHERINE COWAN:
The birth date for Catherine Cowan is in confussion. So records show October 14, 1774 and some show October 4, 1774. I therefore have listed it as October 4-14-1774, showing both until a better verification can be acquired. The grave stone in Palestine shows 10-14-1774, or so it appears. This however in it's self can not be listed as a definite. The paper found in the Bible of John Johnston shows Catherine as being spelled Katharine.

At the age of twenty Thomas B. Erwin served in the War of 1812. After he was released from military service he settled in Lafayette, Chambers County, Alabama. He is reputed to have built the first log house in Lafayette, and it is said that he constructed it out of hickory logs in honor of Andrew Jackson. He served in the militia there, eventually being promoted to the rank of Colonel, serving in that capacity until he moved to Smith County, Texas in 1850.
In 1831 there is a Thomas B. Erwin that served as a commissioner.(This information was taken from the "History of Troup County, Officials and Early citizens of Troup County.) It also states in these records that Thomas B. Erin and his brothers Hezekiah, Abel and Michael Lincoln were among the first to settle in West Point, Troup County, Georgia.
Thomas and his family settled on Rabbit Creek where he eventually built up a large plantation. Col. Erwin was a large slave owner prior to the Civil War. He later moved into the town of Tyler where he built a large home. The street where his home was located was later renamed West Erwin Street. His biography indicates that he was a leading citizen and was involved in many commercial ventures in addition to his farming.
James P. Douglas wrote, in a letter to Thomas B. Erwin, James Robert Erwin's father, "I regret to inform you that Robert Erwin died on the 19 inst." (James Robert Erwin was a member of James P. Douglas's Texas Battery.

James Polk Erwin, born Mar 07, 1796 in Rowan County, North Carolina; died Feb 13, 1858 in Oktibbeha County, Mississippi; married Susannah Goff Jul 21, 1825 in Giles County, Tennessee; born Oct 26, 1805 in Williamson County, Tennessee; died Apr 01, 1894 in Starkville, Oktibbeha County, Mississippi.

Notes for James Polk Erwin:
Some researchers have James listed as James Pearson Erwin. I can not find proof of this. Family members refer him as Polk, thus using the middle name of Polk, I again have no proof as to this. Only the hearsay of family members and what has been passed on from 3 generations back and passed forward listing James middle name as Polk. However the middle name of Cowan as was found in the old Bible belonging to John Johnston. In my opinion the middle name of Cowan makes sense as his mothers maiden name was Cowan. However who am I to question my elders and the United States Census, I figure James gave the information to the census in 1850 and who better should know his name them James himself.
1850 Census, Oktibbeha County, Mississippi; Reel M432-379, Page 261 B, Family 34 Dwelling number 34 lists as follows: James P. 25. FRANCES DILLON

Notes for JESSE RATHER-WRATHER:

Jesse, died on February 28, 1854 in Roane County, Tennessee, having burned to death in a house fire, along with two of his grandchildren.

He appeared on the following tax rolls: 1797, Dinwiddie County, Virginia, 35 acres conveyed by Edmund Elder. 1798, Dinwiddie County, Virginia 22 1/2 acres conveyed by William Meridith. 1799, Dinwiddie County, Virginia 22 1/2 acres conveyed by Birghtwell Rather. 1800 and 1801, Dinwiddie County, Virginia taxed on 22 1/2 acres, 30 acres and 30 acres conveyed by Brightwell Rather. 1802 and 1806, Dinwiddie County, Virginia, taxed on 30 acres and 22 1/2 acres.

About 1808 he settled in Roane County, Tennessee. He had land surveyed on April 12, 1833 on the waters of Bear Cree, Roane County, Tennessee. The chain carriers for the survey were Joseph Emery and Hugh Dillon. A description of the land is as follows: Beginning on a hickory Spanish oak and black bum, running north eighteen degrees West seventeen poles to a white oak and dogwood corner of the land said Rather lives on, then with the line of it South Seventy-two degrees, West ninety - two poles to a stake in Said Rathers field: then South eighteen degrees east passing a hickory and black oak marked as a corner near the top of a nob at fifty - eight poles in all seventy poles to a stake; then North seventy-two East ninety-two poles to a stake; then to the beginning. (this is transcribed as close a possible to the way it is in the Land book for Roane County, Tennessee)

August 9, 1833 Jesse received a land grant in Roane County, Tennessee, (#17972) for 40 acres: this is listed in book 17, page 796.

In the census for Rutherford County, Tennessee dated September 14, 1850 he was listed as living in Rutherford County, Tennessee with a Gillington A Hurt, keeper of the poor house. (was he visiting at that time or was he living there?) We do know that he died in Roane County, Tennessee in 1854.

29. FRANCES UNKNOWN BAZZELL, born Abt. 1782 in Caswell County, North Carolina; died Abt. 1874 in Calloway County, Kentucky.

Notes for RICHARD L. BAZZELL:
Richards will provides for his sons, Robert S. Bazzell, David T. Bazzell, and Daughters Marticia (appears to be spelled in the will Martitia) Griffith, Sally Derrington Nicy Black. (In his will Nancy received more land than her sisters she received 160 acres.) He leaves his Daughter Nancy Chunn the 80 acres lying east of and adjoining James Bazzell. Richards will was proved in open court by subscribing witness and duly recorded November 24, 1862 Alexander Murphey was witness. This means that Richard could have died late in 1861 or early in 1862.

The 1860 census for Calloway County, Kentucky shows Richard Bazzell 81 born in Virginia and wife Frances 78 born in North Carolina. Using these dates it appears as if Richard was born late in the 1780's and died early in the year of 1862. This would put him about age 81 in the 1860 census depending on when census was taken. A picture of the tombstone for Richard L. Bazzell is on disc 5 Asbury Cemetery Calloway County, Kentucky. It shows his birth year as 1780 and death year for 1862. It is picture number mvc 016f ipg.

According to information provided to me from Ann Bazzell Decker, December 2002, she is showing Richard L Bazzell birth year as 1763 and as having married a Frances Unknown and she was born, according to Ann's records, in 1772. She states this information is from Family Tree CD 47-0114. This information has to be in error, as I have a picture of the cemetery marker for Richard and Frances and it shows his birth year being 1780 and Frances's birth year being 1782. She also states that some of the information on Richard L. Bazzell's family came from the family bible of Delphia (Adelphia) Rice Bazzel wife of Richards brother John.

According to the notes of Beryl Reid there is a published Bible from this family and this is where many of the details are taken.

32. JOSEPH ERWIN, born Bet. 1729 - 1738 in Aberdeen, Aberdeenshire, Scotland; died Aug 06, 1793 in Salisbury,Rowan County, North Carollina. He was the son of 64. JAMES N. "of Crimond" IRVINE, ERWIN and 65. AGNESS PATTERSON. He married 33. AGNES (REED UNKNOWN FACTOR) ERWIN Abt. 1748 in Pennsylvania.

33. AGNES (REED UNKNOWN FACTOR) ERWIN, born in Pennsylvania; died Bef. Aug 1806 in Rowan County, North Carolina. She was the daughter of 66. ROBERT REED and 67. AGNESS CATHY.

Notes for JOSEPH ERWIN:

Joseph Erwin's will, dated June 20, 1793, is recorded in Will Book C, pages 279-280 in the Rowan County Courthouse, Salisbury, North Carolina. It was witnessed by Hugh Dobbins and Patrick Barr.

In records in the "Carolina Cradle" the Robert Reeds lived next to the James Erwins, and that land transfered from Robert Reed to Joseph Erwin the same year as Joseph married Agnes. This is a good indication that Agnes was a daughter of Robert Reed and Agnes Cathey Reed. It is with this information that I have surmised that she was of the Surname of Reed, and will continue that belief until I or someone finds proof other wise.

In the family Bible, that is in the possession of Myrtle Lurine Erwin Cooper, a piece of folded parchment with the following information: Joseph Erwin was born Feby 4, 1769. Isabel Erwin born 1749, H. Erwin Feby 20, 1751, Gazer Oct. 1750, Agnes Erwin born March 11, 1760, Margaret born October 1760, Margaret Oct. 1762, Mary was born Aug 14, 1764. Old Stock.

Notes for AGNES (REED UNKNOWN FACTOR) ERWIN:

It is believed by many that Agnes was the daughter of Robert Reed. This however has yet to be proven. For future research I am including the personal data of Agnes Reed in these notes: born about 1731 in Pennsylvania, daughter of Robert Reed and Agness Cathy. The Robert Reeds were living next to James Erwin and his family in Rowan County, North Carolina. Could it be possible that our Joseph did marry the daughter of Robert Reed and Agness Cathy Reed? The Pattersons lived on the other side of James Erwin and his family. Could this have been the parents or a brother of James Erwins wife Agnes? Many researches have said that James was married to an Agnes Patterson from Ireland. Others refer to James wife from Ireland as a McCorkle, and that he married a second time in Pennsylvania. I have no indication that James had more than one wife however there was 14 years between Joseph and Elizabeth. Were there two wives or had some children died that are unaccounted for? This could well be worth more digging.
The will of Agnes Erwin, dated August 3. 1803 , is recorded in Will Book C, pages 273-278, in Rowan County Courthouse, Salisbury, North Carolina. Mary Zander Erwin Baker has a copy of this will which she translated and is in the book she compiled "The Erwin Family Papers of Calloway County, Kentucky".

35. MARY EllZABETH BARKLEY, born Oct 04, 1755 in Rowan County, North Carolina; died Aug 05, 1836 in Rowan County, North Carolina. She was the daughter of 70. HENRY BARKLEY and 71. MARY KNOX.

Notes for Captain THOMAS LOCKRIDGE COWAN:

It is thought by many that the Cowan family originated in Scotland, probably descending from the Mac Cowans, a sect of clan Mac Dougal near Oban on the east shore of the Firth of Lorn, or another branch of Mac Cowans, a sect of the clan Colquhoun whose lands were on the shores of Loch Lamond.

James was crowned James I of England and James VI of Scotland in 1603, and shortly thereafter he began confiscating large parts of the northern part of Ireland. By then the area had become largely depopulated as a result of pestilence, famine and rebellion. Around 1610, in an effort to defuse the unrest of the remaining Irish, he established the ULSTER PLANTATION, which included the nine counties of seventeenth century Northern Ireland. Private planters were already at work in the three counties of Antrim, Down, and Monaghan. In the other six counties James established a somewhat complex plan of land allocation. In the planning stage Scots were not included, but the omission was corrected and by 1611 Lowland Scottish gentry had been allocated large portions of the available land.

Scotland, in the early 1600's was a poor and unstable land. Up to that point only Robert the Bruce in the early 1300s had been able to establish order, and even he had done little to help the plight of the common man. There was no orderly local government, or rule of law other than the rules set down by local clan chiefs. There were no policemen to establish order, and most of its citizens --even Lower level nobility --were illiterate. A large percentage of it citizens were living in poverty, and were little more than indentured servants of the clan chiefs in the Highlands and the other absentee landowners in the Lowlands. It was no surprise then that large numbers of Scots were receptive to the enlistment efforts of the Ulster landowners.

On May 23, 1653 a list was drawn up of emigrants from Scotland to be settled in County Down. One of the names on the list was that of John Cowan, and this is the earliest known recorded reference to a Cowan in the Ulster Plantation.

It was from this environment that many Scots settlers immigrated to America in the early 1700s and they came to be known as "Scotch-Irish".

Between 1720 and 1726 many Cowan family members immigrated from County Down to Pennsylvania. Among the first to leave Ireland were four brothers, all born in the 1690s. They were David, Hugh, John and William Cowan, sons of Samuel Cowan. They left from the Port of Newry, County Down, and it is thought that they settled originally in the West Cain Salisbury district near the border of Chester and Lancaster Counties.

JOHN COWAN was our immigrant ancestor. He married Elizabeth Parke soon after he arrived in the Colonies, and they had nine children. Their third child was John Cowan, Jr., and he was born in Salisbury Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania in 1723.

By the middle 1700s Pennsylvania was becoming crowded, and many colonists were looking southward to the Carolinas where Lord Granville, holder of vast tracts of land was tempting new settlers with cheap acreage. John Cowan, Sr. soon became a landowner. North Carolina land records show that his first acquisition was

September 28, 1750 when he bought 300 acres. There are many land transactions recorded to "John Cowan" in Rowan County in those early years, but many of the recordings are not clear as to whether it was in the name of John, Sr. or John, Jr. It is readily apparent, however, that both were large landowners on or near the Catawba River.

John Cowan, Jr. married three times and would have children by each wife. His wives were (1) Mary Dunn, (2) Mary Graham, (3) Elizabeth Dicky. His fist child, borne by Mary Dunn January 23, 1747 in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, was THOMAS COWAN.

In Rowan County, North Carolina during the third quarter of the 1700s when Thomas Cowan was growing up near Witherow's Creek, much of the region west of Salisbury (the county seat of Rowan County) was a vast wilderness. Wild animals roamed at will, and Indians were hostile and made frequent raids on isolated frontier farms and settlements.

John Cowan, Jr. joined the Revolutionary Army as a Private in 1776, but saw no action, and went home when his one year enlistment was up.

On December 30,1773, Thomas Cowan married Mary Barkley.

In the early years of the Revolutionary War most battles were fought along the coast of the Carolinas and in the North. In 1780, however, Cornwallis moved his British forces into the South. Many men of the Piedmont area joined the fight for independence, and among them was Thomas Cowan of Second Creek. He served as a Captain and commanded, at different times cavalry as well as infantry in the North Carolina Militia. Thomas Cowan was in the battles of King's Mountain, Cowpens, Ramseur's Mill, Lincoln town, Eutaw Springs, and others. He was wounded September 8, 1781 in the battle of Eutaw Springs.

After the war was won Thomas became a substantial planter, he owned many slaves, and accumulated large tracts of land. He also took a leading role in public affairs.

Thomas was also a Presbyterian Elder. His parents and grandparents had been affiliated with the Church of England but after the family migration to Rowan County, North Carolina they found themselves among a predominantly Scottish citizenry that embraced the Presbyterian doctrine. Cathey's Meeting House, later named Thyatira Church, survives, and is located about three miles from Thomas Cowans home. The date of his election and ordination to the Eldership is not known. The early Church records have been lost, but later records indicate that he had a close relationship with the pastor, the Reverand Samuel E. McCorkle. Thomas Cowan and Mary Barkley are both buried in the Thyatira Church Cemetery.

Thomas Cowan and Mary Barkley had fourteen children. Their first born was CATHERINE NANCY COWAN. She was born October 14, 1774 and married Joseph Erwin, II, She was my great great great great grandmother.

Thomas Cowan called his home in Rowan County "Wood Grove". It had three stories, with a large basement and garret, and was built of sun dried bricks. It survives today as a beautiful and valuable historical structure. It contains many of the original furnishings, including pewter dishes and utensils, as well as many relics of the descendants who lived there.

The will of Thomas Cowan, dated May 6, 1816, is recorded in Will Book G, pages 505-508 in the Rowan County Courthouse, Salisbury, North Carolina.

The female between 16 and 26 would be Sarah, born about 1792, the female between 10 and 16 would be Elizabeth born about 1800-1801, and the female under 10 would be Mary Ann born about 1810-1811. For the years of 1823 to 1825 Samuel Rather was granted a license to keep a house of private entertainment. After 1825 the license was granted to his brother Daniel B. Rather.

This was done after the death of Samuel. During the year of 1826 the license was transfered to Mary ann Rather. Mary Ann continued to operate the tavern until 1845, except for the years 1837 through 1839. This appears to be a continuous appointment for one establishment, to four different proprietors. Mary Ann appered on the 1840, Bedford County, Virginia census. It shows her as head of the household consisting of 1 female age 60-70, 1 male betwee 40-50, 1 female between 15-20, and 1 male and 1 female slave age 36-55 6 persons total 3 employed in agriculture.

57. ELIZABETH UNKNOWN BAZZELL

Notes for JOHN GREEN BAZZELL, JR.:
The spelling of the name was changed to Bazzell in about 1830. The name changed when application was made for Revolutionary War pensions and grants.

The following information was taken from the Bible of Adelphia Rice Bazzell and John Green Bazzell. The John that was married to Delphia was born in 1771 so this has to be referencing his father John Bazzell, Jr. (I don't know if there was a Jr. on his name or not but for the sake of keeping them seperate I have used Jr. II, III, IV.) Places of residences, Virginia, 1768 North Carolina, 1787 Williamson County, Tennessee, and 1830 Calloway County, Kentucky.

Children of JOHN BAZZELL and ELIZABETH BAZZELL are:

i. David Bazzell, born 1759 in Caswell, North Carolina; died Dec 29, 1836 in Williamson County, Tennessee; married Susan Price Bet. Jun 25 - 27, 1793 in North Carolina; born Abt. 1772.

Notes for David Bazzell:
David was in the Revolutionary War. He came from Caswell County, North Carolina. After the Revolution, David and Susan migrated to Williamson County, Tennessee. It was there that David applied for his pension in 1833. After David died, Susan, his widow, applied for the remainder of the pension. She had to produce witnessess to her marriage to David. Samuel Dunnaway came to her court hearing and swore that he was a witness to the marriage of David Bazzell and Susan Price. At the time of the hearing Samuel lived in Davidson County, Tennessee. In the court hearing he said the reason he knew the marriage took place, was that he married David's sister Keziah in 1792.
David's brother Robert died in the Revolution, and his brother John was age 62 in 1833. In the 1840's many of the Bazzell's moved to Calloway County, Kentucky. David's father moved with him from Virginia to Person County, North Carolina.

Hillsborough, North Carolina.

Notes for Robert Bazzell:
The final battle of that year took place at Eutaw Springs. General Green's army approached the army of Colonel Stewart, which was located in Eutaw Springs 30 miles northwest of Charleston. Green believed that if he could destroy Stewart he could end the British threat to the south once and for all. Early in the morning, of September 8th, 1781, American troops advanced on the Brithis troops. The Americn attack floundered when the men stopped to plunder the camp. The Brithis counter attacked and forced the American troops to withdraw. The end result however was the Brithis were to weak to hold the field therefore ending in a defeat of the British. Robert was killed at the battle of Eutaw Springs, Hillsborough, North Carolina.

64. JAMES N. "of Crimond" IRVINE, ERWIN, born Dec 02, 1709 in Crimond Estate, Aberdeenshire, Scotland; died Feb 27, 1770 in Second Creek, Salisbury, Rowan County, North Carolina. He was the son of 128. ALEXANDER of Crimond IRVINE, XVIth Laird Of Drum and 129. ISOBEL THOMSON. He married 65. AGNESS PATTERSON 1728 in Scotland.

65. AGNESS PATTERSON, born Abt. 1709 in Ulster, Northern Ireland; died Abt. 1800 in Rowan County, North Carolina. She was the daughter of 130. William Patterson and 131. Unknonwn Thompson.

Notes for JAMES N. "of Crimond" IRVINE, ERWIN:

In researching this wonderful family I find some blanks and questions that I would love to have answers to. The first being that many researchers have James listed as being married to first an Agnes McCorkle then to an Agnes Patterson. The second marriage taking place in Pennsylvania in the about 1740. According to researchers, Elizabeth (the first born daughter) was born in Chester County, Pennsylvania in about 1742. In several records you will find McCorkle families living near the Erwin's. Now the big question is was he married first to a Patterson then a McCorkle or was her name Agnes McCorkle Patterson? Or was his Agnes neither a McCorkle or a Patterson. To my knowledge no researcher has found any fail safe proof as to what her last name was. Many like myself are speculating that he was married only to a Patterson. This conclusion came from the fact that in Pennsylvania he lived near the Patterson's and again in North Carolina the Patterson lived in the next farm. Also the fact that their second child Alexander was born about 1740. Probably named after his grandfather so it appears as if James was not as upset with his father as his father was with him. It is also a fact James and Agnes had a daughter that married into the Patterson family. Inter family marriages were common during that time frame, as courting presented several problems that our youth are not faced with today. The biggest obstacle being transportation to get much distance from the family farm. Most of the horses, ox wagons and etc were used daily from before sun up until after sun down trying to carve their way into the land of this new country.

According to Scottish tales and records the following is a probable account of the Journey of not only our family member but many of the Scot/Irish families that immigrated to the new land known as the Americas.

As religious tensions continued to mount in Scotland, young James Irvine went to Ulster in Northern Ireland to visit relatives. Years before some members of the Irvine family had moved to Ireland to escape growing religious oppressions by the Royalists, but the Irish rift between Protestants and Catholics had grown deadly even then. William Penn had been encouraging disgruntled Scottish Protestants to go to America. It was during this extended stay in Ulster with the Edward Irvine family that James met Agnes Patterson, a young Irish beauty who immediately turned his head. Their relationship blossomed, and when James learned of Agnes' father's intention to immigrate to the Colonies he knew he would have to act quickly. James sent a message to his father requesting permission to marry Agnes. Alexander immediately returned the dispatch indicating that he opposed the marriage, and demanded that James return to Aberdeen at once. Despite his father's adamant disapproval, however, James and Agnes were soon married and they decided that they would follow Agnes's family to America.

Scottish legend has it that Alexander was furious at his Son's defiance but he did allow James and his pregnant wife to return to Aberdeen to the family enclave. After the birth of Joseph their first child, the young family went back to the home of Agnes's parents in Ireland to prepare for their impending departure. It was at this time, so Scottish legend has it, that Alexander declared his Son was never married, and that he was dead. This was a comon practice during that era. If a father became disenchanted with a child he many times disowned, disinherited and even delclared them deceased. At that time when a father disowned a son it was better to declare him dead. Thus avoiding any questions as to inheritance and future heritage. Probably sometime in 1739 the Irvine's, Patterson's and several other allied families set sail on a small clipper ship. After sixty-seven days at sea they landed in Philadelphia, the capitol of William Penn's colony in North America. (Would love to have the name of this ship and documentation as to who was on this ship, and the date of departure and landing.)

The Irvine's and Patterson's petitioned for the English Crown Grants and were given tracts of land in a predominately Scots-Irish area in Chester County, Pennsylvania. In time James Irvine acquired the lease on an existing mill and began to earn a modest living. In 1750, however rumors of new land grants in Virginia and the Carolinas began to circulate and the wanderlust excited the Irvine's (now spelled Erwin) and Patterson's. Edward Irvine and some of the Patterson's decided to move to Agusta County, Virginia but James Erwin preferred the raw frontier of the Carolinas. He petitioned Lord Granville for two parcels of land, and in about 1747-1762 he received a grant for two parcels along Second Board Creek near the Yadkin River in Rowan County, North Carolina. This is listed as grant map 74. This is the first recorded information in Rowan County on this family.

James N. Erwin left a will dated February 27, 1770, and it is recorded in the Rowan County Courthouse, Salisbury, North Carolina. It is witnessed by Alexander McCorkle, Agnes McCorkle and Richard King.

David Irvine, the 26th Baron of Drum, in an article regarding the 17th Laird of Drum in the Second Quarter 2001 Holly Leaf Chronicle, states"....Alexander Irvine was the 7th child of Alexander Irvine of Crimond, who succeeded to Drum in 1737 as the 16th Laird. There were nine children in all, and there were two old brothers, both of whom, it was said, predeceased their father."

This appears to be partly true, and partly untrue. There were nine children, and Thomas, the first child born June 1, 1699, died young in June 1701. However, James N. Irvine, the sixth born, did not die until much later in North Carolina. It can only be surmised that, due to his disobedience in marrying, and his decision to immigrate to America, that he was not only disinherited by his father, but also declared dead. Shortly after his father succeeded as the 16th Laird of Drum in 1737, James immigrated - probably 1739 - with his in laws to Pennsylvania. This could be the reason that James, shortly after settling in Chester County,started using Erwin as his surname.

Will: Feb 27, 1770, Rowan County Court house, North Carolina

Notes for AGNESS PATTERSON:

In the loose papers of Rowan County, North Carolina Wills, there is an 1800 will for an Agnes Erwin. Also in the 1790 Federal Census for Morgan District, Burke County, First Company, North Carolina, an Agnes Erwin is listed as Head of the Family with one free white male under 16 years of age and one white female (including the head of the household). (I don't think this was James wife, as she woud have been to old to have a child under 16, unless ths was one of her grand children. This is just another of those unsolved questions.) There has been a lot of speculation as to the last name of Agnes. It is my personal belief that it was probably Patterson. This was derived because James and his wife were said to have traveled with her parents and their family. In Pennsylvania, the Erwins lived in the same area as the Pattersons and again this is true in North Carolina. Two of the James Erwin children married Pattersons, and it was very common during that period for families to inter marry.) However I do not have documented proof. The other name was McCorkle. However it appears as if the McCorkles didn't come into the picture with the Erwin's untill after they took up residence in Pennsylvaia. I make the assumption of Patterson using the basis that in land records of Rowan County, North Carolina a Patterson family lived on one side of James and his wife and the Robert Reed Family on the other. Also James daughter married a James Patterson, and it was very common during this period that cousis married. This was true because most of the families moved about this new country together and lived close to each other. Not like in todays society, travel was more challanging during this time frame. Thus giving the appearance that they settled at about the same time and received their land grants contiguous to each other. It is using this same logic and the fact that Joseph received land from Robert Reed that I strongly believe that James and Agness's son Joseph married a girl named Agnes Reed, daughter of Robert Reed.

Notes for ALEXANDER of Crimond IRVINE, XVIth Laird Of Drum:

On succeeding as the sixteenth Laird of Drum Alexander found the estate in poor and attenuated. He raised an action against the Earl of Aberdeen and Duff of Premay, trying to set aside in part the recent arrangements, on the ground that the articles of agreement dated March 7, 1733, to which he had been a party, had not been duly implemented. In particular he claimed that other parts of the estate more contiguous to the house and property of Drum should have been preserved to the amount of 5000 to 6000 merks yearly to the family. The case was decided against him in 1741, the Lords declaring that the agreement had indeed been carried out.

Alexander died in 1744 not long after his cousin Alexander Irvine of Savoch.

vii. Alexander Irvine, XVIIth Laird of Drum, born Jun 24, 1711 in Crimond, Abendeenshire, Scotland; died Bet. Feb 09 - 19, 1761 in Aberdeen, Scotland; married Mary Ogilvie Aug 20, 1751 in Aberdeen, Scotland; born 1721; died Apr 05, 1796 in Auchiries, Scotland.

Notes for Alexander Irvine, XVIIth Laird of Drum:
This Alexander was the 7th child and the third Son of Alexander Irvine of Crimond, who succeeded to Drum in 1737 as the 16th Laird. The first Son, Thomas born in 1699, died at the age of 2 in 1701. The second Son, and the next in line for Laird of Drum, was James N. Irvine. He was the sixth child born, he was born in 1709 and married without his fathers permission and immigrated to the New World about 1739. As a result, he appears to have been disowned and disinherited by his father. On the death of the 16th Laird this Alexander succeeded to, 17th, Laird of Drum. The Jacobite uprising came about within a year of his becoming the 17th Laird. It was led by Prince Charles Edward Stewart. In October of that year, Alexander, then age 34, and unmarried, joined a group of local landowners under the command of Lord Pitsligo, and set off for Edinburgh, where they joined the Jacobite Army just after it had won the battle of Preston-pans. He was accompanied by two servants, Janes Buchan and James Adamson. He accompanied the Jacobite Army into England and was present on the taking of Carlisle, Manchester and Derby. On the long march back into Scotland during the winter of 1746, Alexander fought at the Battle of Flakirk in January, where he was wounded in his leg. However, this did not prevent him making his way to Iverness in time to be present at the Battle of Culloden.
He was fortunate in escaping with his life, and was able to return to Drum. There his sister, Miss Mary Irvine, managed to hide him in a secret room. He was saved from capture by the Redcoats though the presence of mind of Mary Irvine, who managed to misdirect the soldiers. His two servants, Adamson and Buchan also returned safely, the former with a "portmanteau heavy with horse nails", although his neighbors believed it more likely to be rich spoil from the battlefield. Both settled on the Drum Estate on local farms.
In the years following the failure of the Jacobite up rising, the English Crown raised several legal actions against those suspected of Jacobite support. Many supporters suffered imprisonment and forfeiture of their property. In October 1748, the Court of Judiciary met to consider bills of indictment against several persons who had not already been convicted, and who had been exempted from the act of indemnity. On the 14th of October the Grand Jury chose to ignore the bill for hight treason submitted to them against Alexander Irvine of Drum. It is said that this indictment failed because it was in the name of Alexander Irvine of Drum, whereas witnesses called, denied having any knowledge of Alexander of Drum, stating that they only knew the defendant as the Laird of Drum. On such a technicality, Alexander escaped indictment.
Alexander married in 1751, had six children and died at Drum, "after a tedious sickness", on February 9, 1761. He was described as "a gentleman universally loved". His sister, Miss Mary Irvine, the heroine of the story never married and died in November 1813 at age 92. Portraits of Alexander and Miss Mary Irvine currently hang in the great hall of Drum.

1025. ELIZABETH BEATRIX IRVINE, born Bet. 1567 - 1586. She was the daughter of 2050. JOHN IRVINE and 2051. ELIZABETH BEATRICE WOOD.

Notes for JOHN "of Artamford" IRVINE:

In November 1605, John Forbes, who was head of a gang called "The Company and Society of the Boys," waylaid John Irvine of Artamford, brother of the Laird of Drum, near the Peill of Lumpanan. John Irvine narrowly escaped, but his servant, William Broun, was killed. Two of his companions -- John Chalmer and Patrick Irvine -- were wounded. On January 20, 1606 a hearing was held at Drum, Arthur, Master of Forbes, John Forbes of Pitsligo, William Forbes of Tolquhon, John Forbes of Brux, Abarham Forbes of Blacktoun and James Gariock of Kinstair were called on to take responsibility for the "attack and slaughter" and to determine whether the joint "honor and long continued friendship with the House of Drum" should continue. All present agreed by formal submission, to abide by whatever decree or sentence Alexander Irvine of Drum might pronounce against the guilty parties. On October 22, 1606 the Laird of Drum fined John Forbes, Robert Skeen and Patrick McKanier. In the mean time John Forbes had been seized and tried in Edinburgh for the attack on John Irvine and others, as well as for miscellaneous other crimes. On November 6, 1606 the Edinburgh court sentenced John Forbes to be beheaded and his property confiscated. It is not clear why, but the sentence was not carried out and John Forbes was released. On December 11, 1606 Robert Irvine, also a brother of the Laird of Drum, was charged with the murder of John Forbes. The court, however, declined to prosecute because of irregularities. Robert was acquitted.

Alexander and Janet were pledged just before this date, probaaboy at Christmas and his father was e "sealing" the event. Consummation of the marriage was performed with ceremony five years later.

On September 10, 1499 John Allardice, his father in law granted to Alexander and Janet Allardice his wife two parts of the lands of the barony of Auchterles in conjunct fee, probably as a wedding gife, reserving the free holding to John and a rationable third to Elizabeth Gordon the latter's second wife. Probably Alexander had jsut reached his twenty first birthday and was now officially wedded to his wife. On the same day his father, from "his affection, foresight and careful consideration" and with the permission of the Abbott of Aberbrothoc granted the lands of Forglen in conjunct fee to him and his wife. Confirmation by the Abbot was made at Aberbrothoc on July 6, 1500.

The following December 13th Alexander and Janet gave her father a reversion on the Auchterles lands to be rendered upon the payment of 1,200 merks.

As Alexander Irvine of Forglen he was made a burgess of the burgh of Aberdeen in 1500 and 1501.

Notes for ALEXANDER IRVINE, V LAIRD OF DRUM:
Alexander was the fifth Laird of Drum. Laird Alexander learned probably around 1480, that wife Marion had been seeing Sir Edward McDowell, his chaplain, on the side. The Laird's outrage was so intense that, with the assistance of Alexander Irvine of Strathdee, a cousin, he violently gelded McDowell. Historian Forbes Leslie states it more discretely "..the outrage perpetrated on the ecclesiastic in the tower of Drum placed him for ever after beyond the reach of jealous suspicions." This changed the Laird's life completely. While separated from his wife it appears that he continued to support her. A remission for this act was granted to him from the King of Scotland.

Some time later around 1482, he was living with Nannys Menzies (probably his second cousin) by whom he had at least four children. There is no record that Alexander and Nannys Menzies were ever married.

Notes for ALEXANDER "OF AUCHINDOIR" IRVINE:
Information tends to lean toward Alexander wife's first name being Helen, however I can not document this with two different sources, so this is a probable.

Notes for UNKNOWN ABERNATHY:
There are two unproved possibilities as to the first name of the Abernayhy that married Alexander of Auchindior Irvine. The first being that her name was Helen, who was later married to George Gordon, ancestor to Craig Littlejohn I. The second being she was Elizabeth who was married to John Gordon, Son of Scardargue. If the later is the true wife she would have married John Gordon after the death of Alexander Irvine So far no evidence has not been found to confirm either theory, nor has there been any evidence found that either Gordon married a widow of an Irvine.

According to the terms of the contract made with his grandfather. The third Laird had a confirmation on September 23, 1389 from Robert II on the lands of the Park of Drum which had formerly been held by John Moigue.

i. Alexander Irvine, IV Laird Of Drum, born Abt. 1382 in Aberdenshire, Scotland; died Jul 24, 1411 in Battle of Harclaw.

Notes for Alexander Irvine, IV Laird Of Drum:
Alexander de Irvine became the Forth Laird of Drum in 1410 when his father died. In 1409 he and his cousin, Alexander Stewart, the Earl of Mar, went to Flanders and joined the army of the Duke of Burgandy. He was knighted on the morning of the Battle of Liege and returned to Scotland in 1410. He commanded the Lowland Army under the 12th Earl of Mar at the battle of Harlaw. The Highland Army was commanded by Eachin Ruadh nan Cath McLean. The commanders fought each other in personal hand-to-hand combat and both died as a result of the combat on July 24, 1411. They were fighting for the Earldom of Ross. A younger brother of Alexander, Robert Irvine, succeeded Alexander as the Laird of Drum. For some reason, possibly because Alexander's claim to Drum had not been formally recognized in the short period between the father's death in 1410 and when Alexander died at the Battle of Harclaw 1411, both Alexander and Robert are considered to be a "Fourth Laird of Drum."

524289. UNKNOWN KEITH, born Bet. 1322 - 1340. She was the daughter of 1048578. Sir Robert Keith.

Notes for ALEXANDER DE IRVINE, II LAIRD OF DRUM:

Alexander de Irvine became the Second Laird of Drum in 1333 when his father died. Historian Forbes Leslie erroneously stated that Sir William's eldest Son was named Thomas, but documentary evidence recently found by Donald M. Mackintosh definitely states that his name was Alexander. He was a baron during the reign of King David II and was a member of Parliament, held at Perth, Scotland in 1369. When Sir Alexander died in 1380 he was succeeded by Alexander, his eldest Son and heir.

There has been no evidence found so far that will document either of these marriages. However there is some circumstantial evidence which might suggest that the Larid's's wife might have been a sister to Sir James Fraser of Frendraught.

1048577. Lady MARIOTTE MARION BERNARD, born Bet. 1278 - 1300; died 1335.

Notes for WILLIAM ALEXANDER DE IRVINE, IST LAIRD OF DRUM:
William de Irwyn was the First Laird of Drum. By this time the spelling changed from Irwyn to Irvine.

When fleeing from the forces of Edward Longshanks one stormy night in 1298, Robert the Bruce took refuge with the Chieftain, William Irvine in Bonshaw Tower. The Irvine's "carried him down to the Kirtle Waters" nearby and hid him in a cave in a precipice near Cove Tower, one of the many Irving strongholds. The cave door is in a perpendicular cliff twenty feet above the river and hidden by ivy. The current Bonshaw Tower (constructed in the 1500's) today stands some one hundred feet, on the same precipice containing the cave, above the Kirtle River. When Bruce left the Bonshaw sanctuary, one of his cousins, William Irvine of Woodhouse, a nephew of the Laird of Bonshaw, left with him and joined his cause. Throughout Robert Bruce's efforts to gain and hold the throne of Scotland William remained in his service. In 1307 Bruce had his first real success against English forces at the Battle of Glen Trool. Sir Gilbert Hay had been Bruce's armor bearer up to that point, but after the battle Glen Trool Bruce promoted young William to that post, and he would later have the added responsibility of secretary to the King of Scots. Trusted and admired by "The Bruce", William was eventually proclaimed a Knight and was thereafter "Sir William".

At some point, early in his service with Robert Bruce, William Irvine took the name William devine. Since the standard "Kings English" had not yet been invented, the spelling of the name could change depending on the whim of the scribe. The name eventually evolved into its most commonly accepted form during the latter half of the sixteenth century. Throughout Britain and Scotland the name is spelled Irvine, but pronounced Irvin". In the United States the name has many forms. The most common are Ervin, Erwin, Irwin, Irvin, Irvine and Irving.

In 1322, when firmly settled on the throne of Scotland, Robert Bruce granted a portion of the Royal Forest of Drum to Sir William father, Alexander deIrwyn. This was seen as a gesture of gratitude for the assistance he had received at Greyfriers Church in Dumfries on February 10, 1306. It was there, during a stormy meeting with John Comyn the Red, the only other serious contender for the Scottish crown, that an argument erupted between the two. Daggers were drawn, but Bruce got his blow in first and Comyn was killed. Alexander deIrwyn was among the group who helped Bruce escape the Comyn followers. On March 25, 1306, in the Abby of Scone, Robert Bruce was crowned King of Scots.

On February 1, 1323, as a reward for long and faithful service, Bruce granted Sir William deIrwyn a Free Barony in Aberdeenshire. The grant included the Castle of Drum, the Tower, and some 8000 acres of the Royal Forest of Drum which had been part of the original Royal Caledonian Forest. The barony gave Sir William the judicial power of "Pit and Gallows" or the express authority to hang or drown wrong doers within the boundaries of the estate. Along with this grant came the title of Laird of Drum. A second grant was at Kyncross and was dated October 9, 1324. The original grants are still in existence and are kept in a vault at Drum. Thereafter Sir William was also known as the Laird of Drum. Twenty-three additional Laird's of Drum would occupy the estate. In 1975 Henry Quintin Forbes Irvine, the twenty-fourth Lard, turned over Drum Castle and 411 acres of the original estate to the National Trust of Scotland.

Sir William deIrwyn continued to faithful service the Crown for many years and occupied a seat in the Scottish Parliament under King David II. No record of William has been found after the Exchequer Rolls which states that William was involved in his duties at the burgh of Aberdeen on March 3,1332/33 so he obviously died after that date.

The above information is from varied sources. One being the encyclopedia Britannica, others being information provided by various other researchers.

Notes for WILLIAM IRWYN:
William Irwyne was known as William "Of Bonshaw Irwyn. He was Laird and leader of the border clan in Dumfries, near Lockerbie, Scotland. Bonshaw Castle dates back to 1022 A.D. and is still in ownership of the Irwin (Irving) family.
Irvine:
1. Scotch: habitation name from Irvine in Strathclyde or from Irving in Dumfries and Galloway region. The two names have become confused and are impossible to disentangle. Both are derived from a Celtic river name probably composed of elements ir=green fresh vin=water. There are two major Scottish families called Irvine. They share a common ancestor, Duncan, known as the first of Eryvine. He was killed at the Battle of Duncrub in 965. These Scots were of Irish origin, descended from Cimeal Connell, a member of the O'Neil Clan. The two Scottish branches were established at Bonshaw in Dumfriesshire, and at Castle Drum in Abendeenshire. (We are descendants of the Irvine's of Castle Drum in Abendeenshire.) A branch of the Irvine Family was re established in Northern Ireland where they built Castle Irvine in County Fermanaugh. Member of this family went to settle in America including the brothers William who died about 1894, Andrew who died about 1789, and Matthew who died about 1827. All three served in the American Revolution. The names Irwin and Irvine are now as common in North Ireland as they are in Scotland.

2. English: from the given name Irwin, Erwyn, Everwine, Eofowine, composed of the elements eofor=wild boar +wine=friend.

3. Irish: Anglicized form of Gael OhEiremhoim = descendant of Eire, a personal name of uncertain origin. Variations: Irvin, Irwin, Urvine, Irving Erving, Irwing, Everwin, O'Hirwin, O'Hirween.

4. Jewish: Spelling of Erwin, an adoption of the German spelling Ehrvine. Some Jewish families also used the spelling Irving.

Source for the above: "A Dictionary of Surnames," Oxford University Press, 1988, by Hanks Patrick and Flavis Hodges.

As we know our Irvine's (Erwin's) came from Scotland. However, according to some authoritative history research figures, a large majority of the Irvines, Irvins, Erwins, Irwyns, etc, etc, that are in the United States actually arrived from or through Ireland, North Ireland to be exact.

Henry VIII of England, was involved with some war, probably more than one, during his reign in which he was aided by the Scots, being victorious, he saw fit to reward his allies with land. Unfortunately, the land he gave them was in Northern Ireland, and it already belonged to Irish people. Nonetheless, many Scots moved to Ireland and began to conflict which continues to this day. The area in Northern Ireland that many move has city by the name of Irvinestown, which is not to far from Belfast. Good times got bad in Ireland, and a large portion of the population of Northern Ireland immigrated to Canada and the United States.

We are direct descendants of James Irvine, however in doing this research I find that there was another James Irvine that was born in Scotland about 1788, and married a Lady named Oswald Dundas Nichol, about 1806, and moved to the Caribbean Island of Antigua and had eight kids by the time he moved on to Montreal. Moving from the Caribbean to Canada must have been a big shock with the culture differences, and the climate variances between the two. Never the less it appears as if all the Irvines, Irwins, Erwins, Irwyns, etc etc the list goes on and on, are families who, accidently or on purpose, changed the spelling of their names to make them them more phonetic. It is said by researchers that the correct spelling of, Irvine, Irwin, Irwyn take your pick, the original William de Irvine, Irwin, Irwyn is a mystery. This mystery will probably never be totally settled, even history books spell it in various ways.

There are two branches of the Irvine family that belonged to the baronage, Bonshaw and Drum. The Lairds of Drum were descendants from William de Irvine, who was the armor bearer to Robert Bruce, King of Scotland, and was rewarded for his devoted service by a grant of the forest of Drum, Abendeenshire, at that time part of the royal forest. These are our ancestors. Yet part of their ancestory is from the Bonshaw lines.
